EarthLink Farms

EarthLink Farms, formally known as Diener Farms, is a Family owned and operated business located northwest Indianapolis. Norman Deiner started the farm in 1994 and is now joined by his sons Everett, Myron and Aaron. Known over the past 15 years as having "the best tomatoes and sweet corn in town" we are pleased to inform you that they have expanded their growing operation in order to fulfill what they view as an increasing need for locally grown fresh spring mix. The Earthlink Farms commitment to quality is summed up by their mission statement, as they seek "to meet and exceed national and global standards in food safety and product quality".
