MEET THE GROWERS

Lady Moon Farms

Lady Moon Farms started in 1988 with 5 tillable acres and a dream. A dream that people can really change the world they live in! Tom Beddard and his wife Chris were two recently married city kids with children about to embark on a dream he had since gardening in his parent's tiny backyard. Their dream was to grow food themselves. Food that they knew was grown with love and care for the soil & earth. Food that would be free of dangerous chemicals because it never made sense to them why anyone would spray poisons on the food they would eat.

Food that would allow their children to grow up strong and healthy. Having lived that dream Tom now dreams of filling as many homes as he can with the same lovingly-grown food he raised his own family on.

They have farms located in Chambersburg, PA, Punta Gorda, FL and Bainbridge, GA. As of 2012 they added new locations in Immokalee and Loxahatchee, FL. With the addition of farms in Florida and Georgia, Lady Moon Farms is now able to provide year round availability on most of their organic products.
